

Summary of Student Evaluations of Teaching

Daihong Min

Department of Economics, University of California, Davis

dhmin@ucdavis.edu · www.daihongmin.com · September 2026

I was a teaching assistant for eight economics courses at UC Davis over 18 academic terms, Fall 2021 to Summer 2026. All figures below come from the university's official Student Evaluation of Teaching instructor summary report, which pools the 35 discussion sections (1,282 enrolled students, 17 terms) with evaluations on file: 415 student responses, a 32% response rate. Evaluations for ECN 100B (Spring 2022) are not available in the university's evaluation system and are not reflected in any figure here. The full report is available upon request.

Selected student comments

A selection from the written responses in the official report, reproduced verbatim, including spelling. The report does not attribute comments to individual sections. A bracketed ellipsis marks omitted text about other course staff.

Clarity and preparation

- “Daihong comes to discussion class well prepared every week. He is open to questions and is very helpful when the other students and I ask questions. He is a great TA.”
- “Explained questions in a way that immediately made sense to me, really contributed to my understanding in this course.”
- “Daihong helped to clear up a lot of the concepts that were not as clear during lectures, which was very helpful, especially when some things were gone over too quickly during lecture. His sections were well-organized, and he is accessible to students.”
- “This TA was very thorough in his explanations of class materials and gave helpful and exam-representative practice problems during discussion classes.”

Engagement in section

- “I think that the TA was very good at inspiring discussion of the material as well as getting everyone engaged.”
- “Overall, great job by the TA. Made the discussion sections very interesting and engaging. Did a phenomenal job at reviewing the course material!”
- “Easy to talk to, great with any questions. Very thorough in all of his teachings, made me want to come to every discussion.”
- “He’s probably one of the best TAs I have at Davis. He explains all the topics clearly and prepares us well for exams. His discussion session is always fun to attend. He works hard to help all his students to get “A”s which was super sweet. Thanks man!”
- “This is my second time having Daihong as my TA and he was very helpful in both courses. I think that it was really him who explained all the concepts to me for me to actually understand what’s going on. Overall, a very helpful TA and he was also super quick in grading our midterms.”

Responsiveness, office hours, and grading

- “DaiHong was very helpful during office hours and he would make sure i actually understand the material by confirming it with me multiple times. He’s also really fast at responding emails when I have questions about the homework. [...]”
- “Extremely fair grader, punctual and speedy, receptive to students and their struggles, and posts materials online for students. Awesome TA.”
- “The TA was helpful with helping us understand the material, and I appreciate he would help us go through the homework sets while they were still open, so we could get applicable practice with the material.”
- “I really appreciated how responsive and helpful Daihong was throughout the quarter. I always felt like I was in great hands! Thank you!”
- “From my perspective, Daihong is very approachable to students during the office hour since he addresses the question of every student during the office hour~ I think he deserves the best Teaching Assistant Award~”
